
eagle pack Eagle Pack Foods

Posted by CaptRon - 2008/06/29 01:15

Im sure someone here has experience feeding this. I actually found someplace local that sells it, so am thinking of switching the dogs over from ProPlan. My question is trying to figure out what formula. I am leaning toward the fish, but am unsure if it will make them smelly? My other two choices are: original adult - pork or holistic - chicken. One of the dogs is a GSD - 6 months old; the second is a lab - 1 year old. dainerra

=====

eagle pack Eagle Pack Foods

Posted by Melinda Shore - 2008/06/29 01:15

Im sure someone here has experience feeding this. I actually found someplace local that sells it, so am thinking of switching the dogs over from ProPlan. My question is trying to figure out what formula. I am leaning toward the fish, but am unsure if it will make them smelly? My other two choices are: original adult - pork or holistic - chicken. I've had my dogs on the Holistic Select Chicken for over a year and I'm very, very happy with it - excellent energy levels, beautiful coats, apparently highly palatable (although my guys will eat anything), etc. I did try a bag of the fish-based feed and went back to the chicken. The fish-based feed did not make them stinky, but it has slightly lower levels of protein, fat, and nutrients and I've got relatively hard-working dogs. They also didn't like it as much.

=====

eagle pack Eagle Pack Foods

Posted by CaptRon - 2008/06/29 01:15

I've had my dogs on the Holistic Select Chicken for over a year and I'm very, very happy with it - excellent energy levels, beautiful coats, apparently highly palatable (although my guys will eat anything), etc. I did try a bag of the fish-based feed and went back to the chicken. The fish-based feed did not make them stinky, but it has slightly lower levels of protein, fat, and nutrients and I've got relatively hard-working dogs. They also didn't like it as much. thanks for the info. My hopes have been crushed, the local place that sold it is out of business.. Darn outdated information! :) I am now looking for an online source. Any suggestions? I am also considering Flint River, mostly because they dont charge shipping. dainerra

=====

eagle pack Eagle Pack Foods

Posted by Melinda Shore - 2008/06/29 01:15

thanks for the info. My hopes have been crushed, the local place that sold it is out of business.. Darn outdated information! :) I am now looking for an online source. Any suggestions? No, I buy from a local feed shop. I've also had good experiences with Canidae and Innova, but the Eagle Pack Holistic Select Chicken made the biggest improvement in how the dogs look.

=====