Sure, but most wouldn't care. Everyone has to take pride in something. I am very very good at giving pleasure.{zoe} That's a good thing to take pride in. One of the best ones I've ever heard, actually. It turns me on to turn a guy on. The more he enjoys it, the hotter it makes me feel. Its almost like a reverse power thing. I submit, I give, I get pleasure back. Of course, it has been awhile for me. Over a year. I needed time to recover and try to find a normal life. I dont want to go back to that life. I want one man. Just one. {zoe}

Last I checked one could still leave the US even as a citizen ... Not without a passport (usually). Convicted felons may not be able to obtain passports, and the IRS sometimes blocks issuance of a passport for someone who has unpaid taxes and presents a flight risk.

I gasp and moan. Sometimes too loudly. I am seeing this guy, B , and he really wants to go to bed with me and I want to too. But I am holding off just alittle longer. Its hard for me to think what might be natural. I have not had a real boyfriend since I can remember. I tried with a guy, J , but he could not get over my past. I mean, I didnt expect him to MARRY me or anything. Just for him to be nice and enjoy things. B is alittle older and more together about stuff. He is more relaxed and not so intense. When I told him I needed alittle more time, he said that was cool, but that he wanted a total relationship that included the physical part. He is also savvy enough to feel the strong effect he is having on me. So I guess soon. {zoe} - Hide quoted text -- Show quoted text -

I buy everything but undies at Goodwill & other used clothing stores. I dont own a car anymore. But I am thinking about buying a bike. And I have to work! I don't get any help from anybody. Where do you live none? {zoe}

Why arent you doing porno now? I have heard that it pays very well. I've also heard that you have to work too hard for your money, and you're often hard-pressed to find people who respect you outside the profession. Thats true. I remember when Amber Lynn tried to take her acting skills to TV. She just couldn't make the transition from porn to TV.

It's not what I want. I never really wanted it. I've tried to explain. Basically, I was a slave. I was controlled by a man I met as a 16 year old runaway. I was using cocaine and even some heroin. I got almost none of the money I made. A little over a year ago I tried to kill myself and I was dumped at the door of a hospital emergency room. Actually, the people I work with today treat me very well - the chefs and waiters and bartenders are very kind to me. Almost like uncles and older brothers. I sometimes go out with a much older man, I , as an escort (no sex) and he treats me very much like a lady. And I have a new boyfriend B who is very respectful and caring. Of course, I haven't told him that I did some porno, not alot, or that I was savagely raped, or that I was a call girl. I did tell him I had posed for nudes and worked as an exotic dancer. Yes, I work hard as a waitress and I go to school. But I feel like my life belongs to me now. I live very quietly. And that is good. {zoe}

I don't recall what you are working on in school; I hope it's something fascinating and useful.

TheShiest writes: So, you think Schwarzenegger could become easily a Formula-1 champion? In a heartbeat. Even better than Schumacher: because he (Schwarzenegger) is much much stronger and can, therefore, exert more pressure on the accelerator...). Exactly. Nonsense, there is more to driving fast than who can slam down the accelerator pedal the quickest. Care to elaborate? Havent you been reading the whole thread? It isn't who can push it down the quickest, it is who can push it down the hardest! -phy

My make-up is on and I'm in my team outfit for Monday Night Football night. Looking in the mirror, I can look into my own eyes. I do not look like the person who did those bad things. I dont feel like her anymore either. {zoe}

Some people say that women don't care about penis size, others say that women really would tend to choose a larger penis than normal. Others say it's not length that matters, but girth. What's the real truth?
